COVER LETTER

Dear Sir/Madam

3 Oct 2016

I am a UX designer and researcher based in Scotland. I am originally from San Francisco, where I worked in content at Yelp for over two years. I then moved to Scotland to complete a Masters in Human-Computer Interaction at the University of St Andrews. I am currently working as a UX designer and researcher for Ginger.io investigating the digital workflow of their employees.

I'm writing to inquire if any teams could stand to benefit from the addition of a talented UX researcher or designer. I'm specifically skilled in identifying and solving complex usability problems. Other strengths centre around designing and prototyping proposed solutions in order to communicate findings to the relevant parties.

As I have just completed my dissertation with a mental health startup called Ginger.io, I have been researching and designing a system for their care providers in which I identified problems in their workflow and designed solutions. These solutions were consolidated into an interactive prototype that I tested and validated.

I am an exceptionally quick learner and I work incredibly hard. My work experience reflects my work ethic, and my portfolio reflects my skill and savviness. I'm currently located in Scotland right now but am keen to relocate for a good role. I prefer London, but also noticed that Broadway is based in Austin as well. Either location is suitable for me.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Steph Dunn
